CAMPION NOTES

In another column will be found John Heron's platform and what he stands for. Judge accordingly.

Also on the last page will be found the platform of Dr. Warnock, the Liberal candidate. From it our readers can gather what he and the Liberal government stand for.

Both the candidates are good men. It is simply which has the best policy to offer for the best interests of the country.

You have your choice. Which will you have? Choose wisely and well! Sink party, and put country first!

Harvesting is the order of the day around Cayley.

Mr. Murdoch is in Cayley for a few day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Scragg spent Sunday at her former home.

Mrs. Reid of Calgary was visiting Cayley friends last week.

Quite a number from Cayley and surrounding district took in the Nanton fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Shakteton returned on Monday from a business trip to Cranbrook, B.C.

While waiting the box cars around on Sunday there was a little one left on the siding.

Miss M. Ross of Calgary is visiting at the home of Mr. Wm. Caspell.

Mr. Rub. Elves has returned to Vulcan, after an enjoyable visit with his parents here.

It is queer how a young lady can brighten a young man's life by simply turning down the light.

Don't worry, Alex, about private interests. The other fellow is doing his part.

Mr. Geo. Walker and sister spent Sunday at the home of Clifford Chaffee.

The C C ranch started threshing last week and we expect a report of an enormous yield.

Born—In Cayley, on Sunday, Sept. 17th, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carr, a daughter.

Miss Bessie Wood of High River is at present visiting at the home of Mr. Saunders.

A. E. Taylor has returned to his home in Ontario after a few weeks' visit with his brother-in-law, H. E. George.

Choir practices will take place in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening and in the Methodist church on Friday evening.

Say, Sandy, mon, where's the bagpipes the no? We do sair lang to hear the skirl agin' and to behold yer martial march o'er the prairie. Guess you're over busy these days, aye?

Geo. Walker is in from his homestead. As election day draws near all our homesteaders will come in to exercise their franchise.

Wm. Hicklin left on Monday for Kinnondale. He intends to bring his horses in to Cayley to help fill the demands of the many who need them.

Several people believe in the use of paint west of Cayley. It certainly adds to the appearance of a place to see some kind of color.

Mr. Morrison, who has had charge of the Presbyterian appointments to the west of Cayley for the summer, has left to continue his studies at Ottawa.

On Oct. 1st the annual Children's Day service of the Presbyterian church takes place. The programme is attractive and the subject most helpful, being, "Christ's most winning word."

H. E. George had his herd of Holstein cattle at Nanton Fair, taking all prizes awarded in that class. This speaks very good for Cayley as a dairy district and should be a stimulus to our farmers to improve their stock.

Methodist church service at Zepher school house next Sunday at 3 p.m. and at Cayley at 7.30 p.m. A hearty invitation is given to all. Come and show your interest in the great Sunday school movement.

Dr. Warnock's meeting, which was here on Friday, was well attended. The Doctor gave a very interesting address and dealt largely and pointed out clearly the benefits of reciprocity to the country in general.

Mrs. Nelson, who has been in the hospital at High River for some time, was brought to the home of Mr. J. Marth last week. We are sorry to report that her health is not improving and that she is no better.

The Rev. O. E. and Mrs. Mann were visiting in the neighborhood of Zepher on Tuesday last. They report the farmers are busy cutting their grain in fine style and all are in good spirits.

On Sunday evening, Sept. 24th, a commemorative service in honor of the illustrious founder of the modern organized Sunday school, Robert Raikes, who died one hundred years ago, will be held in the Methodist church, Cayley. Special hymns will be sung, and a special responsive service has been prepared, programs of which will be supplied. An address will be given by the Rev. Oliver E. Mann, subject: "Robert Raikes—The man and his work."

A very great and most potent gathering of the men of Alberta takes place in Calgary on Oct. 8th to 20th. Men from all parts of the province who are interested in the Layman's Missionary Movement, and who will be able to attend, will be there to take part in the council and vote on a policy for the province as a whole. Two of the men best known in the world to-day are to be there, John R. Mott, who might be considered the originator of this movement, and Sir Andrew Fraser, recently Governor General of Bengal, India, and now in the foremost ranks of Britain's statesmen. Every man in the Cayley district should make an effort to attend at least some of the sessions, and if possible take in the whole convention.

IT'S UP TO YOU

What do you think of it?

Sound Advice

FARMER—Well wife, the barn wants painting, the fence is down, the chickens are in the garden, the deers are on the granary, the pump's no good, we haven't a knife that we can cut the meat, the linden is full of holes, the house is swarming with flies, the chickens are covered with lice, we haven't got a decent chair to sit on, the buggy squeaks worse than a German band, the cows swallowed the wire stretchers, and the pig eat the hammer. I think we'll quit farming.

WIFE—Let us go and see McMeekin & Scragg and get the place fixed up. We're going to have a good crop this year, and I know the boys will treat us right.

HELPING THE WORKERS.

A German Plan That Uplifts Those Who Are Seeking Employment.

The problem of making non-employment respectable and self-respecting has been solved in Berlin through the agency of a central labor exchange maintained by co-operation of the municipality, the workers, and trade unions. At the Berlin Labor Exchange, while awaiting a market, laborers are provided with a home which is a club-house and smart comfort, and which places the man or the woman in search of work on the same dignified trading level as the brokers who have produce to sell. Why not? It is a woman, as a rule, who acts as the decoy, says a writer in the Review of Social Problems, organization and thoroughness, conducted at a cost of less than $20,000 a year, for its entire operating staff numbers only 27.

The Reason

"How effectively sweet that Benj. Blumley is to you, Johnny," said Withers. "What's up?" Any tender little romance there?"

"No indeed—why that woman hates me!"

"She doesn't love it," said Withers. "No, but she knows I know how old she is—she's been known on the same day," said Johnny, "and she's afraid I'll tell everybody."—Hartley Weekly.

An Easy Pill To Take—some people have hesitations to take because the nameless taste. "Purmer's" Vegetable Pills are so prepared as to make them most delicate can take them without loss of ordinary life. This is one reason for the popularity of these pills, but the main reason is their high initial quality as a medicine.

An Obvious Error

She had written on the blackboard the sentence, "The road to glory is through silence," and turned to her class for them to discover this error of silence."

Little Benji Sheridan waved his hand frantically, and going to the board scrawled the sentence, "The road to glory is through silence."—Metropolitan Magazine.

"My good man, are you systematic in your work?"

"No, sir, I'm systematic."—Baltimore American.

Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria.

A countryman who had been humped all his life was about to die. His wife felt it her duty to offer him such consolation as she might, and said:

"John, you are about to go, but I will follow you, Maids."

"I suppose so, Maids, but so far as I am concerned you don't need to be in any hurry about it."

Was Holding a Wake

An Irishman with one side of his face badly swollen stepped into Dr. Winton's office and inquired if he was dead.

"I am the dentist," said the doctor.

"Well, then, I want to go to what the master did me tooth."

The doctor examined the offending molar, and explained the cause of the trouble.

"The nerve is dead; that's what's the matter."

"Then, be the powers!" the Irishman exclaimed. "I don't want to be dead, but I want to be a wake over it."

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or after they become bloated, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the various parts of the body.

It is a kindred and often a dangerous disease, and it is a condition which has no other effect. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.

The ingredients as stated under each name are: Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.

This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy.

It helps the human system in the construction of new red blood, it helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heartburn and may relieve the symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fevers, for the run-down, the thin, the bloodless, the weak, the nervous, the irritable and vitalizing. Stick to this safe and sane remedy, and relieve all "just as good" medicine offered by the druggist who for a few cents will send you a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which you do half as much good.

ART OF STEALING.

Continental Thieves and Their Methods of Operating.

The unpleasant experience which recently befell a British Cabinet Minister on his journey to Switzerland is not an uncommon one for English travelers on the continent. Few days pass during the steersman season, for instance, without the report of some daring train robbery, and in most cases only gains and not losses.

The heavy cloth-cased from travelers passes into the pockets of an exceptionally clever and highly organized gang of international thieves, their operations cover wide areas, and are carried out with scrupulous regard to detail and an arrangement which has often baffled the police.

For transatlantic liners, cross-Channel boats, or trans-European express journey without representatives of the gang aboard. They have agents in all the big towns and cities, who warn them of the movements of well-known people who are likely to be worth plundering. The thieves themselves are drawn from all nations, and generally well-bred men and women, who are invariably well-dressed, and put up at the best hotels.

Through being able to render friendly assistance to travelers who do not know their way about, and are often able to rob their unsuspecting victims with impunity. It is a woman, as a rule, who acts as the decoy, says a writer in the Review of Social Problems.

Who fills of resources are the women, being able to take up the clearest and is well illustrated by the adventure of an Englishman who returned recently from Paris. He carried with him bank notes of the value of £50, £10, and £5, and was very much surprised to find that the value of his money had been reduced to £10, £5, and £2.

The average man or woman seldom develops the habit of saving until a Savings Account has been opened. The possession of such an account acts as an incentive—your natural desire to see the fund grow encourages that tendency to thrift so necessary to success. No matter how little you can afford to lay aside from the weekly wage, open a Savings Account in the Bank of Hamilton.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE Federal Riding of Macleod

GENTLEMEN:

Having accepted the nomination as the Liberal Standard Bearer in the forthcoming election and being an enthusiastic believer in the benefits to be derived from the Reciprocity pact with the United States I desire to place before you a few reasons why the cause I support should receive your endorsement at the Polls.

In December, 1910, the farmers of Canada sent a large deputation to Ottawa to lay before the Government their demands relative to remedial measures for the benefit of the farming interests, and a reciprocity agreement with the United States was one of the most important measures suggested.

About the same time the United States Government sent representatives to Ottawa and announced that they were prepared to enter into negotiations with a view to arrange a reciprocity trade agreement with the result that the Reciprocity Pact now before the people of Canada was reached and the approaching election is a referendum as to whether that Agreement shall or shall not become law.

It is a well known fact that farm products, wheat, barley, oats, hay, flax, cattle, and hogs command much better prices in the United States markets than are obtainable in Canada and with the duty removed you will have free access to the markets of the south and reap the advantages of higher prices for your products.

Access, duty free, to a new market of ninety million people is what this reciprocal trade arrangement means, and it is for the farmer to say whether he will accept or decline the offer put before him by the Government.

The Reciprocity Agreement also provides for a considerable reduction on the duty on Agricultural Implements and this will enable the farmer to save money on his purchase of the many necessary farm implements.

As a member of the United Farmers Association of Alberta I endorse the platform of that organization, and if sent to Ottawa as your representative I shall do everything in my power to bring about a further substantial reduction of the duty on agricultural implements at the earliest possible date.

The farmers of Canada, through the deputation sent to Ottawa, asked for reciprocity, and those of you who follow the proceedings in the house know that but for the opposition of the Conservative Party, Reciprocity would now be in force and we should be getting the benefit. If you vote for the Liberal Party and return that Party to power you will have the agreement ratified just as soon as Parliament can be re-assembled.

As has been already pointed out the Conservative Party is opposed to this measure and by supporting their candidate you are assisting to elect that Party to power, and, therefore, assisting to destroy the Reciprocal agreement.

The powerful industrial and financial interests in the East are opposed to the agreement, and if the Conservatives get into power those interests will dictate the policy of that party and tariff reduction will be impossible.

Reciprocity also means much to the consumers of Canada and is worthy of their support. The fact that many food stuffs can be imported free of duty from the United States should appeal to the consumers of this country who are anxious to see the cost of living reduced.

The Reciprocal Agreement will give a tremendous stimulus to the development of the large coal areas lying along the mountains. The removal of the duty on Coke will enable Alberta Coke to compete successfully with Pennsylvania Coke in the markets of the great smelting centres of the United States and the result will be a largely increased output by our coal companies. New coal mining towns will spring up in these coalfields and new home markets for farm produce.

Railways will be induced to come in from the south affording us better transportation facilities.

One of the arguments advanced by the Conservative party against the Pact is that better trade relations with the United States will tend to make us disloyal to Britain and create a desire for political union with the United States.

But at the present time Canada does a much larger business annually with the United States than she does with Great Britain, yet Canadians have never been termed disloyal. A prosperous people are always a loyal people and if we double our business with the United States that will not weaken our loyalty to Great Britain.

The Liberal Party have in the past drawn together the bonds of the Empire by giving British manufacturers a preference in Canada and will increase that preference. The Conservative Party opposed British preference almost as bitterly as they now oppose Reciprocity, yet they talk loudly of their loyalty to Britain.

Reciprocity with the United States will rapidly enhance the value of our lands. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company advertising in Seattle state that the passing of the Pact will increase the value of Western Canada Lands one hundred per cent. This means wealth to every Homesteader.

In conclusion I would say that I am not without parliamentary experience and I would point to my record in the Provincial Legislature.

If honoured with your support at the Polls on September 21st I shall do everything in my power to further the interests of the electors of Macleod Constituency.

If sent to represent you at Ottawa I shall stand for immediate construction of Railways for which charters are granted in the Federal House, as I have done in the Provincial House.

Be sure to cast your vote on September 21st. A vote at home is useless. Vote for the Liberal Party and Reciprocity.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

September 4th, 1911.

D. WARNOCK.

TIMELY TOPICS

OUR COUNTRY HOMES

There is one thing that strikes a casual observer as he visits the outlying settlements and farms after a prosperous season, and that is, the movement toward the improvement of the farm home. And that is just as it should be. As soon as the farmer has a little balance in hand he should remember the comfort of wife and children and himself and set about making home more like a home.

The chief glory of any land is its homes. Of what use is wealth tied up in a stocking, or even in a bank, if the farmer has merely a hovel or a hut to live in? To the poor man, whose financial balance is on the wrong side, that broken down shack that lets in the wind and cold, and which is a terror to wife and children, is perhaps the best that he can do, and yet we doubt that. It is surprising what added comfort a few boards and a handful of nails and then a can of paint will give. No matter whether you reckon to live on your place one year or the remainder of your life, you deserve a little comfort yourself in return for the hard, slogging toil you put in from morn till night the year round; and apart from yourself, your wife and children would be much happier if home were more like home.

All honor to the pioneer who leaves his home away down east, or across the border, and strikes into this new land to carve for himself a fortune, but that fortune is not the only thing to be thought of. Our fathers built a home, and for years we lived under its sheltering roof; we turned to it daily at the close of school hours, and though it was not a spacious mansion it was clean and comfortable, and to us it was the very best place on earth—it was home.

When we left it, and the old folks in it, we thought we could scarcely bear the parting, for that home was the centre of influences that to this day are sacred, and even now at times we turn our thoughts back to the old place and almost wish we were boys and girls again sitting joking around that meal table, or teasing one another almost to breaking point. Yes, and the timely warnings of the old dad and the gentle reproofs of the mother all made their mark upon us, and we are today what we are because of their influence in the old home. Boys and girls who are dragged up without home and its influences usually become wastrels and hoboos. Boys and girls brought up in homes and under home influences become men and women and presently statesmen and noble mothers.

So, farmers of this great west, there is a duty resting upon you beside growing grain and getting the highest prices, the duty of building Homes with a capital H, homes with good influences, homes such as we had and now look back upon.

One great danger is ahead of this country. The buying and selling of farms, of what should be homes, goes on apace, and very few settle down to make their place a permanent home. Yet this country is good enough for anybody to live in, is it not?

Mid pleasures and palaces, where'er we may roam,
Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home.

CUT IT OUT

Did you ever notice what a great many things there are in our lives that it would be better for us and others were they cut out? For instance, everything that does not contribute to our happiness—blasphemy, an injudicious use of slang words, stories that have a dirty suggestion to them, back-biting, imposing upon the weak-minded ones, booze, that curse of mankind. These are just a few things that everybody can do without, and indeed would be better without.

FIREARMS

What a lot of accidents are still happening with guns and rifles. Some folks pick up a rifle as though it were a broom handle, and seem to have no idea as to the danger in so doing. Such folks, be they men or boys, should be forbidden to handle a rifle at all, for generally some one else is the victim of their ignorance.

OPIUM VS. WHISKEY

At an important gathering in New York City some time ago the editor of a Chinese newspaper in San Francisco made an eloquent address, in which he protested against exclusion of his countrymen from the rights and privileges which other nationalities enjoyed within the boundaries of the United States. He said: "You have singled out my people from all human creation as unworthy of your hospitality. You let in the Italian, you let in the Hun, the Turk, the Jew, and the Russian. You let in the underworld of Europe and Asia—the idle, the ignorant and the criminal, and you shut out the peaceable and industrious Chinese, because you say we are heathen and smoke opium. You say the truth; we are heathen, and we do smoke opium; but you are christian, and you drink whiskey. And if I were a woman I would rather my husband smoke opium every time than drink your christian whiskey. Opium puts him asleep, opium makes him harmless as a corpse; whiskey wakes up the devil and makes him a brute. Melican man comes home full of whiskey, kicks wife; Chinaman comes home full of opium, wife kicks him. You be christian, we be heathen. With my knowledge of your American saloon, if I were to return to my country and the issue were a choice between the opium den of my heathen China and the saloon of your christian America, I would choose for my people opium rather than whiskey." And who would blame that learned Chinaman?

ADDRESS

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE

MACLEOD FEDERAL RIDING.

GENTLEMEN:

Having received the nomination of the Liberal-Conservative Convention at Macleod, for the third time, as a candidate to represent this Riding in the forthcoming General Elections, I am again requesting your suffrage and support. It is so short a time until the election day, September 21st, that I will be unable to visit every portion of the Riding in person, hence I wish to place before you, as briefly as possible, the platform on which I stand, as follows:

I am in favor of, and will support, as I always have:

Reciprocity.

Direct Legislation by way of Initiative, Referendum and Recall
The control and operation by the Dominion of all Terminal Elevators.

Government assistance and encouragement of the Chilled Meat Industry.

The granting of substantial assistance for the Improvement of National Highways.

The Government construction of the Hudson Bay Railway and its operation by an Independent Commission.

The extension of Rural Mail Free Delivery Districts.

The granting to the Province of ALL its natural resources—lands, timber, mines, minerals, etc.

The free admission of Agricultural Implements.

The establishment of a Permanent Commission for the adjustment of Labor Disputes.

Honesty and Economy in Administration.

In the seven years that I have had the honor to represent you at Ottawa, I have consistently worked for the benefit of the constituency to the best of my ability, and, if again chosen by you as your representative, can assure you that in the future, as in the past, you can depend on my best services in promoting the welfare of our country.

Yours sincerely,

JOHN HERRON.

Macleod, August 18th, 1911.
